Edited by Dr Peter J.L. Wallis
Foreword by Sir Patrick Moore FRS and Dr. Allan Chapman (Wadham College, Oxford)

"Now the whole scope of Bath Science is opened in this engaging book. I savored it one chapter per day, delighted by the confluence of ideas that flowed through this city" – Dava Sobel

How one city, its people, and its visitors changed the course of history

Fashionable Bath grew hand-in-hand with scientific Bath; now the story of those who helped shape our lives and invent devices used the world over is told in this fascinating new book.

Innovation and Discovery embraces an amazing range of topics: medicine, astronomy, engineering, natural history, chemistry, geology, and much more besides. From the first English scientist to the invention of photography, Innovation and Discovery tells the stories of the people and their ideas. Local scientific organisations are featured too. A special biography and gazetteer section, with over 170 entries, brings out the breadth of scientific activity in Bath. Featuring the Herschels, William. Smith, Brunel, Priestley, Adelard, Parry, Jenyns, Horstmann, Fox Talbot, and many more.

For orders received by 30th September, your name (no others details) will be entered into the subscriber list. Orders received between 1st October and the launch will still get the pre-publication price, but can't be acknowledged as subscribers.
